

Biography

Alessandro Gaiani, architect, has been Assistant Professor of Architectural and Urban Composition at the Department of Architecture of the University of Ferrara since 1999. He has made the hybrid and sustainable strategic approach his project, also winning national and international design competitions. Author and curator of books, essays, articles, he is a strong supporter of the value of the connection and contamination between socio-economic disciplines and architecture, for the typologies Quodlibet has recently published the book Urban Overwriting. The research and projects are based on theoretical, methodological and practical topics related to architectural design and regeneration strategies, developing the concept of sustainable mutation declined both through the transformation of existing heritage and in the definition of the new in which emerges, as a distinctive feature, both the autonomy of the shape of the buildings designed and the belonging to the uniqueness, diversity and richness of the place.