

Brief Biographical Information

Roger Abogzuah Ayinselya

Roger Abogzuah Ayinselya was born in Tongo-Balungu, Ghana in 1983. Roger is a former professional basic school teacher in Ghana. He has also, previously, served as a Teaching Assistant in the University of Cape Coast, Ghana where he studied for his first degree in Psychology (2011). He also has a Master of Education degree in Educational Leadership, Policy and Development from the University of Bristol, UK (2014). Roger is currently pursuing his PhD in Teacher Education and Development in Canterbury Christ Church University, UK.

A strong desire to serve, Roger has involved himself in a number of voluntary services both in Ghana and abroad. He has served at The African Initiatives, Bristol, UK; Planned Parenthood Association of Ghana, University of Cape Coast Chapter of BONABOTO Students' Union; and International Movement of Catholic Students, Pax Romana University of Cape Coast, Ghana.

Roger's professional interest focuses on basic education, teacher professional development and teachers' working conditions. His PhD research explores teachers' sense of professional identity in Northern Ghana.

Roger is currently an active member of the British Association for International and Comparative Education, UK and an alumnus of the Commonwealth Shared Scholarship Commission, UK.