

Short Biography

Professor Dr BENMOUSSAT Abderrahim was born on August 31th, 1953 at Tlemcen (Algeria). He is titular of many diplomas such as University enabling diploma from Tlemcen University (Algeria), 2008, doctorate diploma from USTO University of sciences and technology Oran (Algeria), 2006 . He is a teaching – researcher in materials sciences, metals structure behaviour and environment. He supervise an equip of several researchers (doctorants, magisters and masters) and have supervised many thesis (more of 95 theses) and several research projects (CNEPRU, PNR) since 1999 where he published several scientific papers on metallic materials behaviour, valorisation of the metallic solid residues in the industrial wastes. He is an author of several international scientific publications and attended several international conference trough the world which he was a member of the scientific committee. He is an expert in the CNEPRU research projects of MESRS Algerian educational and research ministry, a reviewer and member of a reading panel in several scientific reviews such as Algerian COST Journal, JMES journal of materials and environment sciences, Arabian Journal for Science and Engineering (AJSE), International Journal of Mechanical Engineering and Applications, Science PG. He is a supervisor of many doctorate theses in Algeria and PhD in LTU university of Lulea (Sweden). He was a member of evaluation group in many theses. He started his university activities at Tlemcen university, USTO –MB university of sciences and technology and continue at CUTAM Tamanghasset university center (Algerian South) where he is a member of the technology scientific group and responsible of LMD domain manager of matter sciences for Master and Bachelor course..

