

Tetiana Bogdan, Doctor of Economic Sciences, Chief of Department for Public Finance at the Expert-Analytical Centre “Optima” and a Senior Researcher at the Academy of Financial Management by the Ministry of Education and Science of Ukraine. In 2014-2017 she was a Chief of Section for International Financial Research at the Institute for Economics and Forecasting of National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine. She also was a guest researcher at Vienna Institute for International Economic Studies (Austria) in 2016.

T. Bogdan has advised Ukrainian policy-makers (direct advisor to a Minister of Finance in 2011-2012) and worked for international research and technical assistance projects supported by German Federal Government - "Transform" programme, by the U.S. Agency for International Development, by the EU's FP7 and Tacis Programmes, and by the Open Society Foundation (Hungary).

She focuses her research efforts on fiscal policy implications, external vulnerability and debt sustainability issues, investigation of international capital flows and global financial architecture. She is an author of 165 scientific publications. Her articles have been published in Athens Journal of Business & Economics, Transformations in Business and Economics, wiiw Research Report Series and Ukrainian academic journals, i. e., Economist, Finance of Ukraine, Economics of Ukraine.