

HANDE EMİN BENLİ

Hande EMİN BENLİ completed her Ph.D at Atılım University in Political Economy and her undergraduate studies at Bilkent University in Banking and Finance. Hande got her master degree from University of Essex in International Business and Entrepreneurship.

Hande has served on several areas such as banking, public and academic sectors. She worked as an economist in Energy and Economy Ministry for a definite period of time. She also contributed to the establishment of Social Sciences Research and Education Laboratory (SAEL) and she is a team member of SAEL at Atılım University.

Her research interests are law and economics, politics, entrepreneurship, economic growth and economics of judiciary. Hande has several publications in international refereed journals and she also has presented papers in international law and economics conferences.