

Bogdan Florin FILIP

Assistant Professor PhD, Department of Money, Finance and Public Administration, Economics and Business Administration Faculty, "Al.I.Cuza" University of Iași, Romania. Holds a Doctoral Degree (PhD) in Economics since 2004, with a paper about "Modern Banking Technologies and their impact on bank payments and lending". Graduated Economics and Business Administration Faculty, "Al.I.Cuza" University of Iași, Romania in 1997 and Gheorghe Asachi" Technical University of Iasi, Automation and Computers Faculty in 1994.

Work Experience

Worked for more than 15 years in banks (about 7 years as manager), and since 1995 started teaching activity on different positions, teaching courses and seminars of „Financial-Banking Technologies”, "Corporate banking", "Modern banking instruments for payments and lending", „Finance”, "Money and Credit", "Electronic Administration"

Areas of interest

Banking, Banking Technologies, Risk Analysis, Finance, Public Finance, Public Administration, Computer science, artificial intelligence.

Scientific results

1. Author and co-author of 4 books with ISBN
2. 5 articles appeared in publications ® ISI/ SCI Web of Science
3. over 30 studies regarding banking activities, published in volumes and reviews;
4. over 35 presentations regarding banking activities at several Scientific Workshops and Conferences .
5. reviewer for 4 international indexed journals from UK, USA, Canada and for several International Conferences.