

“Curriculum Vitae” (Short)

PhD. Architect Horacio Casal

He was born in La Plata city, Argentina, he completed his study as Architect and Urbanist at the Universidad Nacional de La Plata (UNLP) Argentina. Radicated by 12 years in Italy, he homologus him title at Università della Sapienza-Rome / MIUR, currently he completed his PhD in Architecture at the Atlantic International University (AIU) USA.

He created your own Architectural Office in Argentina and then he was transfer it to Italy where continued his career in Sardinia, where he also serves as Professor and Research Project at the Università degli Studi di Sassari-Facoltà di Architettura since 2004. He worked as Visiting Professor at the Royal Danish Academy in Copenhagen, Denmark and at the Escola da Cidade in Sao Paulo Brazil, and he participated as invited Professor at diferent Workshops and International Seminars.

In his professional activity has made more than 200 projects between new and restructurings, covering various topics including architectural and urban, having won national and international awards.

By winning National Competition by Opposition and Background the post of Professor Senior at the National University of Rio Negro, (UNRN) Patagonia Argentina, returns to Argentina through the Program RAICES (repatriation of scientists), in the actuality he works as Professor Senior of Project and Morphology and as researcher, and he is the Dear Interior Design and Furniture career of the university, also continuing with him activities in Italy.