

Irina Vyakina PhD, Associate Professor of the Department of Economics and production management of the Tver State Technical University. Fields of research are investment, regional economics, economic analysis, economic security, production management.