

Massimo Tusconi, M.D. (2011, University of Cagliari, Italy), Specialization in Psychiatry (2016, University of Cagliari, Italy), Visiting Scientist (2016, University of Texas, Houston, TX, U.S.A.), is currently working at the Department of Public Health, Clinical and Molecular Medicine, Psychiatric Clinic, of the University of Cagliari, Italy. Clinical researcher with focus on Schizophrenia and Schizoaffective Disorder, Translational Psychiatry, and clinical aspects of Emergency Medicine in Mental Disorders. Skilled in Epidemiology and Statistics, Informatics, proficient in Computer Science, SPSS, Data Mining and Information Systems; he published articles and abstracts for presentation at scientific congresses. Member of the UMEA, Universala Medicina Esperanto-Asocio (International Association of the Esperanto-Speaking Medical Community). Furthermore he is an Editor, and an invited reviewer for several biomedical journals.