

Prof Ncwadi holds a PhD in economics from Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University (NMMU) and a certificate in Marine Studies from UPE /Washington University, USA. He has a finance background in a banking sector. Prof Ncwadi's areas of specialization are Public Finance, Money & Banking, International Finance, Health Economics, Economics of Labour Markets, Macroeconomics, Development Economics and Econometrics. His research interest is in Public Finance, small business development and informal sector economics, and applied econometrics. He has published both in local and international journals and has read papers at academic conferences both in South Africa and abroad. He was a Director in the Macroeconomic analysis Unit in the Eastern Cape Provincial Treasury between 2008 and 2010. He was an Associate Professor and a Deputy Dean of the faculty of management and commerce at Fort Hare University. Prof Ncwadi is currently an Associate Professor and Head of Department of Economics at Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University in Port Elizabeth. He is a member of international organizations, namely, Pan African Entrepreneurship Research Council based in the USA; Athens Institute for Education and Research (Greece) and also a member of BRICS Academic Forum (BRICS).