

Dr. Pradeep Chaudhry is presently working as Additional Principal Chief Conservator of Forests and Director State Forest Research Institute, Itanagar, India. He is from Indian Forest Service (IFS) with about 30 years of working experience in the forest management, conservation and research. He has worked and undertaken exploration tours in different forest types of India in the states/Union territories of Arunachal Pradesh, Andaman and Nicobar Islands, Rajasthan, Himachal Pradesh and Chandigarh. His research and academic interests include eco-tourism, sustainable development, biodiversity conservation, valuation aspect of natural resources and conservation of water bodies especially lakes and rivers. He has many research papers to his credit in the peer-reviewed international scientific journals in the fields of urban forestry, tourism, biodiversity conservation and environmental economics.