

Prof. Dr. Santhiram Raman received his doctorate in Educational Policy Studies at the University of Sussex, United Kingdom. He is currently the Dean of the School of Education, Languages and Communications, Wawasan Open University, Penang. He started as a secondary school teacher in 1965. In 1979 he was appointed Research Officer with Project InSPIRE (IDRC-USM) in 1979. He was then appointed as Lecturer at the School of Educational Studies, Universiti Sains Malaysia (USM) in 1985 and was promoted to Associate Professor in 1998. On retiring from USM, he joined KDU College Penang Campus as the Director of Studies in 2002. In 2005, he left for Universiti Brunei Darussalam as Associate Professor at the Sultan Hassanah Bolkuah Institute of Education. He joined Wawasan Open University in August, 2012 and was promoted to Professor. His research interests are in the areas of education for ethnic minorities, educational policy analysis and history of education. He has written extensively on issues of minority education in Malaysia, especially for the Indians.