

Simona-Cristina MARTIN, PhD, is currently Associate Professor at the Banat's University of Agricultural Sciences and Veterinary Medicine "King Michael I of Romania" from Timișoara, Romania, Faculty of Agricultural Management. She has a degree in "Agricultural and Food Products Processing" and "Tourism Economy, Trade and Services", MSc in „Management of agricultural integration in the European Union”, “Management and agricultural management”, an Postgraduate Diploma of specialization – “Management of international transactions” and PhD in “International economic relations”.

Her main areas of interest are economics, tourism and agritourism, services and rural development. She teaches Services Economy, Engineering and Services in Agro tourism, Resource Management in Rural area and she is a journal editor in chief (Lucrări Științifice. Management Agricol/Scientific Papers. Agricultural Management), vice-dean for research and social affairs, reviewer of scientific articles and an organizer of scientific events in Romania and abroad. She published more than 160 articles as author or co-author in the fields of services (tourism services), tourism and agro tourism and rural development, 1 course support for students (Engineering and Services in Agro tourism), 2 books (Services - a challenge to market economy, Mortgage loan - a tool of recovery and support growth) and 1 seminar notebook for students (Hotel and catering services - economics and organization).