

Short Bio – Marco Soresina

Marco Soresina (1957). Professor of Contemporary history, University of Milan, member of the Board for the PhD in History, culture and theories of society and institutions. His research interests are mainly modern-contemporary history (from the XVIII to XX century), especially in polity, administration, bureaucracy, economics, welfare, labour and cultural history. On these topics he wrote more than a hundred scientific essays, as well as several short interventions. He is also active in historical dissemination and in school publishing, in which he has published volumes, bibliographies, teaching aids and multimedia contributions.

Main recent publications:

- Italy Before Italy: Institutions, Conflicts and Political Hopes in the Italian States, 1815-1860, Routledge, 2018 ISBN 9781138565234
- Le memorie dei funzionari di polizia italiani nell'età liberale in una prospettiva comparata, "Studi storici", 2017, n. 4
- The «little history» of an Italian murdered in Rio Grande do Sul, "Altreitalia", 2017/55
- White collars and labour history. The contractual regime in Italy from the Liberal to the Fascist era: 1919-1945, "Labor History", 2017/4, DOI: 10.1080/0023656X.2017.1255543
- Italian emigration policy during the Great Migration Age, 1888-1919. The interaction of emigration and foreign policy, "Journal of Modern Italian Studies", 2016/5, DOI: 10.1080/1354571X.2016.1242260
- Health Legislation and the Medical Profession in Italy: from the nineteenth century to 1978, "Yearbook of 'G.Barițiu' Institute of History of Cluj-Napoca - Series Historica", 2016/LV
- "Non potendo esser fiori contentiamoci di essere radici". Una biografia di Cesare Correnti, Milano, Biblion, 2014 (ISBN: 978-88-984900-3-5)
- Il notabilato lombardo in età liberale: un repertorio, "Storia in Lombardia", 2012/1-2, DOI: 10.3280/SIL2012-001006
- Imagines of Lombardy in historiography, "Modern Italy", 2011/1, DOI: 10.1080/13532944.2011.534253
- Professioni e liberi professionisti in Italia dall'Unità alla repubblica, Firenze, Le Monnier, 2009 (1 ed. 2003) [ISBN] 88-00-85752-3