

Radoslav Baltezarevic, PhD in Communication is a Full Professor in Marketing, Communication and Media at Higher School of Communication in Republic of Serbia. Since 2018 he has been an Academic Member of Athens Institute for Education and Research – Marketing and Mass Media & Communication Unit. Prior to that, he worked as an Associate Professor in Public Relations at University College of Bahrain, as an Assistant Professor in Marketing at American University of the Middle East in Kuwait, and as a faculty member at the International College of Interdisciplinary Sciences in the United States, where he had a position of Director of International Affairs, as well. Before that, he worked as an Assistant Professor in Marketing and Management at Faculty of Business Economy and Entrepreneurship in Republic of Serbia. Since 2014 he is holding the position of the Vice President of NGO Alma Mater Europaea - Belgrade, which is a part of the Alma Mater Europaea, a European International University, Austria, under the auspices of the European Academy of Sciences and Arts, which has more than 2000 members, including 33 Nobel laureates. He has published 8 books and over 70 publications in national and international journals and scientific conferences (SCI, SCIE, SSCI, A&HCI, SCOPUS Q1, Q2, Q3, ERIH PLUS, WOS, EBSCO). He obtained his Ph.D in Communication from Faculty of Culture and Media in 2011. He is a member of the Journalists' Association of Serbia – UNS, the largest and the most significant association of professional journalists of Serbia. Since 2019 he is a founder of the Smart University Foundation, a global membership-based initiative based in San Diego, CA, USA focusing on "Smart University" as an innovative holistic concept for expanding the understanding and implementation of new technologies, sustainability transformations, best academic practices, and current trends in management & leadership for a better future of higher education.