

Chokri Ouerfelli is a professor of Quantitative Methods at the Institute Higher Commercial Studies, University of Sousse, Tunisia. His research focuses on tourism economics, time series analysis and seasonality. One of his studies appears in Tourism Management and the second in the International Journal of Tourism Policy. Other articles have been discussed in many conference proceedings