

Dr. Cosmina-Simona TOADER is currently Lecturer at the Banat's University of Agricultural Sciences and Veterinary Medicine "King Michael I of Romania" from Timișoara, Romania. She has a degree in „Economic Engineering in Agriculture”, MSc in „Management of sustainable rural development and alignment with European standards” and PhD in Agronomy.

Her main areas of interest are management, project management, agricultural management, touristic management, rural development. She teaches Project Management, Engineering and Project Management, Management Production, Management in Agritouristic Farm and she is member of editorial board (Journal of Geography and Regional Planning), member of the Reviewers Body (Journal Management & Marketing), reviewer of scientific articles and an organiser of scientific events in Romania and abroad. She published over 100 articles as author or co-author in the fields of agricultural management, project management, touristic management and rural development, 1 course support for students (Project Management) and 2 seminar notebooks for students (Project Management, Project Planification).