

Short Biographical Note

I am Assistant Professor in Punjabi University Patiala since last 6 years my career objective is to seek challenges in Social Development and Education sector to get a position of responsibility, using my skills efficiently to communicate my ideas and views and commit myself for achieving organization objectives with the team effort and my positive attitude, dynamism, enthusiasm and performance. I have completed my Ph. D in Management subject from Jiwaji University Gwalior. Topic of my Ph.D. thesis was “Impact of Globalization on HRM in distillery Industry of UP”. So through my research I try to discover those different dimensions of globalization which are directly or indirectly influencing present HRM scenario in distillery industry. This impact is not only limited to distillery industry but It is influencing all the industries. Information technology is playing a most important role in the era of globalization and has deep impact on all the functioning of an organization in all the industries. I have written five research papers which also explore the impact of globalization.

During my tenure as Assistant Professor at Punjabi University, Patiala, I have contributed immensely in starting up and successful running of two new courses i.e. B.Sc. (MCM) and M.Sc. (AMC). Under graduate course B.Sc. (MCM) is a unique blend of three different subjects. Now a day’s such type of multidisciplinary programmes are highly needed to fulfill the requirement of time. I am also member of many departmental committees like: Admission committee, educational tour committee, organizing committee of national seminar on Mathematics and its application. I am always eager to take any additional responsibility because I have faith that increases our strength. Our “Youth Forces” needs to be harnessed of its full potential and it is only possible through quality training and education.
