

Devakumar Thenchery is working as Asst. Professor in MES College of Architecture, Calicut, India for the last one year. After graduating from College of Engineering, Trivandrum in 2007, he worked for different firms in India and abroad. The inclination towards traditional architecture made him pursue a PG Diploma in the same, so along with mainstream architecture, he started a practice in traditional and temple architecture of Kerala. During this time, he documented a number of traditional houses and temples in Kerala. In order to enter to academic field, he pursued a M. Arch in Architectural Conservation from SPA Bhopal, in 2016. Currently, he is working on the idea of cultural spaces and its role in both tangible and intangible cultural heritage. Another area of his expertise is Ritualistic Landscape, which deals with a ritual and the landscape shaped by the ritual.

Areas of interest: Documentation, Intangible Cultural Heritage, Traditional architecture.