

Mariam Gersamia
(CURRICULUM VITAE )

(Updated: 15.09.2014)

Professor Mariam Gersamia is the Head of Journalism and Mass Communication Division at Ivane Javakhishvili Tbilisi State University (TSU): the oldest and the largest University in Georgia. She began her academic carrier in TSU in 2001 and got the Doctoral Degree in Journalism Studies (in 2004). Professor Gersamia became the member of the academic council in 2011. Currently she is in charge of the J&MC programs (at undergraduate, graduate and doctoral educational level).

In 2006-2009 years she worked at the Ministry of Education and Science of Georgia as the Head of communications Division, the minister's adviser, the Head of Public Relations Department.

In 2009-2014 she served as the Director, Executive Director, and Deputy Director General at the Georgia National Science Foundation (later, renamed as Shota Rustaveli National Science Foundation). She is an accreditation expert at the National Center for Education Quality Enhancement. She is an author of several textbooks and publications in journalism and mass Communications field. She is an active blogger.

Research interests: Media education, public relations, textual analysis, media & democracy.

Email: mariam.gersamia@tsu.ge;