

SHORT BIOGRAPHY

Dr. Annalisa Ianniello
University of Salerno (Italy)
Researcher – Special Pedagogy and Didactics (M-PED/03)

Researcher in Special Pedagogy and Didactics (M-PED/03) at the University of Salerno. Already graduate with honors, she holds the title of PhD in Language, Society, Politics and Education Sciences and is an expert on the subject at the Departments of Medicine and Surgery, Human Sciences, Philosophy and Education. She is the author and co-author of numerous contributions to prestigious national and international journals (Springer, MDPI, IGI GLOBAL) and has participated as a speaker at conferences in Europe, Florida, Rio de Janeiro, Azerbaijan, New Delhi. She is an Editorial Review Board Member of the American Journal of Educational Research, the Journal of Education, Society and Behavioral Science, and many other academic journals. In 2023 she received the International Best Researcher Award for the field of study “Special Pedagogy and Didactics - Inclusive Education” by International Research Awards.

Her scientific production deals with the theme of Values Pedagogy, Well-Being, and Teacher Education. She reflects on the main trajectories, approaches, and teaching practices for inclusion in a perspective of contextual development and transformation to build complete, flourished Lives.