

Assistant Professor Tatjana Ivanovic, PhD

Tatjana Ivanovic is Assistant Professor for Human Resource Management at Faculty of Organizational Sciences, University of Belgrade, Serbia, the Department for Human Resource Management. She holds a PhD in Human Resource Management from the Faculty of Organizational Sciences as well as Master in Public Management degree from Bocconi Università – SDA Bocconi, Milan, Italy. She has been working at the Faculty of Organizational Sciences since 2007, teaching different subjects in the field of Human Resource Management and International Human Resource Management both in undergraduate and master studies. Also, she teaches International Human Resource Management (taught in English) at a double degree international master program between Middlesex University Business School, London, UK and Faculty of Organizational Science. She was also lecturing at the Military Academy of the Republic of Serbia, Belgrade, where she was teaching Human Resource Management. Also, Tatjana was a guest lecturer at the Faculty of Information and Communication Technologies – Bitola, St. Kliment Ohridski University in Bitola, Republic of Macedonia. She has been mentoring more than 30 master thesis as well as numerous bachelor theses. Her pedagogical work has regularly been assessed with a high grade by the students. She is a co-author of a book for Human Resource Management course as well as the author of different papers presented at international conferences and published in international journals. She is a member of the editorial board of the International Journal FENESTRA in the field of education, published by Center for Local Initiatives Bitola, Republic of Macedonia. Also, she was a member of organization committee of the International Conference Symorg 2016 held in Zlatibor, Serbia. Tatjana is fluent in English and Italian.