

JENNY PATRICIA ACEVEDO RINCÓN

I was born in Colombia in July 20 in 1980. I studied Master in Mathematics, Specialization in Education Mathematics, Mastery in teaching of the Mathematics, in public Colombian universities. Since 2014, I began to study at the University of Campinas (Brazil) to study the Doctorate in Education. I'm developing the thesis on Learning teacher and professional development in an interdisciplinary practice on the University of Campinas.

I have worked with several levels of education, in the basic, average and university education. I practice as teacher from the year 2001. Nowadays I realize investigation on the educational learning and the professional development of the future teachers of mathematics.

I have 3 lines of investigation for which I work:

- Visualization in mathematical education
- Teacher learning and professional identity of the teacher of mathematics
- The mathematics in the initial years of education
