

Introduction

Professor Lee Waller serves as Associate Provost of Enrollment Management, American University of Ras Al Khaimah. Lee does research in Educational Leadership, Educational Management, and Educational Assessment. He serves as a Professor in the field of Education with specialization in online learning and quantitative research. Lee holds a PhD in Higher Education Administration from the University of North Texas, a Master of Science in Mathematics and a Bachelor of Science from Stephen F. Austin State University.