

Lejla Mušić Associate Prof, working at the Department of the Sociology of Political Science Faculty Sarajevo, at Sarajevo University, in Bosnia and Herzegovina. She graduated in 2005, from Department of Philosophy and Sociology at Faculty of Philosophy Sarajevo, and later on in English language and literature. In 2006 she gained her MA degree from Centre of Interdisciplinary after graduate Studies Sarajevo in Gender studies, and earned her doctorate in 2012, from Faculty of Political Sciences Sarajevo. She teaches disciplines Sociology of Gender I and Sociology of Gender II. She is current member of ASA, ISA, SWS, IPRA, Forum Bosnae, Atiner and she junior member of Board of Sociology of Bosnian Science Academy. She had written over 50 articles, 5 compendiums of texts for students of Faculty of Political Sciences in field of Sociology of Gender and Sociology of Youth, and seven collections of papers/scientific monographs and conference proceedings, participated in many Conferences in Bosnia and Herzegovina and internationally. She has written and published following seven books:

- Gender based violence in BH family in the period of the transition (2010),
- Ecological aspects of contemporary sociological theories and their implications on contemporary Bosnian and Herzegovinian society (2013), and
- Sociology of gender, essays on femininity and masculinities (2013).
- Ecological nationalism (2014) , Lamp and Lambert academic publishing, Saarbrücken.
- Women Scientists position in Sociology, Techniques and Chemistry(2015)(an editor of Volume), Lamp and Lambert academic publishing, Saarbrücken.
- Femina sociologica- On Women in Society and sociology (2016), Lamp and Lambert academic publishing, Saarbrücken.
- Femina sociologica –in Bosnian language is currently, being prepared for printing, TDP, Sarajevo, 2017.
- Sociology of Youth femininities, and masculinities, TDP , Sarajevo, 2020.
- Femina Academica,, Lambert academic publishing, Saarbrücken. 2021.

She is awarded with star performer award in 2015 from American Virgin Islands University, Saint Thomas, included in scientific monographs on Institutionalization of Gender studies in Bosnia and Herzegovina as she participated as a lecturer of second Generation of MA studies in Gender, and is currently reviewer for and/or member of editorial board : American journal of Educational Research, (www. sciepub.com), African Educational Research Journal and also has reviewed articles for San Francisco feminist journal Hypathia and Journal of Economics Studies, Istanbul( DAKAM Institute) , and David, History( New York). She was member of Scientific Committee for Gender and Peace Commission, for the IPRA Conference, in Sierra Leone(2016), and WLEC Conference in 2021. She organized I prerecorded video MA student symposium on the theme Female founders in Sociology, in 2021( Faculty of Political Sciences, Sarajevo, and Female studies Zagreb). , and in February 2022, Online Symposium 2, was organized. Prof. Lejla Mušić won Fulbright Visiting Scholar Award(2019/2020), in Women Studies, at SUNY College Old Westbury, New York University. For 2020, and 2021, she was invited by Sakarya University to coordinate Women's studies/Gender studies, section of CUDES, Conference, at Sakarya University, Turkey, as a Scientific Committee Member of the Conference. Prof. Mušić, is included in the biographical book, Who is Who in Bosnia and Herzegovina/Ko je ko u Bosni i Hercegovini, in first edition (2014-2018).