

Biographical Note

Daniel Magueta is an assistant at School of Technology and Management Águeda (ESTGA-UA) at the University of Aveiro, where he teaches courses in economics and management. In the last seven years he has been Vice-Director and Director of the Bachelor in Retail Management, period in which he was the responsible to a pioneering restructuration in the degree, centered in a partnership with one of the Portuguese major distribution group (Jerónimo Martins). He has been a local responsible for the participation in a nationwide competition in entrepreneurship. His research interests focus on competition policy and regulatory mechanisms, firms' internationalization, retail management, industrial organization, sports economics, energy economics and entrepreneurship. He has a BSc in Economics and an MSc in Business Economics both at the University of Aveiro, and is currently a PhD student in Economics at Minho and Coimbra Universities. Daniel has published in Review of International Economics, a Chapter in a Book and several communications in international conferences.