

Bio for Professor Orpha K. Ongiti - 1

Professor Orpha Kemunto Ongiti is currently the Director and Senior Lecturer at Africa Nazarene University, Nairobi CBD Campus. Professor Ongiti earned her PhD and Master of Science in Educational Administration and Policy Studies, from the State University of New York at Albany. Her doctoral research was on: “The Impact of Policies and Practices on Professional Socialization of Women in Doctoral Level Mathematical Sciences”; while for Masters she focused on: “Gender Imbalance in Education: the Sociological Perspective.” Prior to that, Professor Ongiti had earned a Master of Education Degree in Curriculum Studies and Bachelor of Education Degree from Kenyatta University, respectfully. Her Master’s in Education Degree was on: “The Relevance of Skills Acquired through Vocational Education Offered in the 8-4-4 Curriculum to Job Performance in the Agro Based Industries: the Kenyan case.” Professor Ongiti’s areas of research: Higher Education, especially, Gender Equity in Education and Women in Sciences and Mathematics.