

Gerardo Pastore

Department of Political Sciences, University of Pisa, Italy

Sociologist and PhD in History and Sociology of Modernity. “Researcher” in Sociology (since 2016) at the Department of Political Sciences, University of Pisa. Lectures on undergraduate and graduate levels (since 2008). “Didactic Coordinator” of the Master in “Social Criminology” at Pisa University (since 2012).

Main Research Interests: social change, focusing on development and consequences of the "Knowledge Society" impact in Italy and Europe; learning dynamics and social change; learning and social inclusion processes; critical sociology, focusing on the major “sociological themes” in the work of Antonio Gramsci to apply the main Gramsci’s concepts to the analysis of "problematic" and contradictory character of the knowledge society.