

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Pritibhushan Sinha is an independent management consultant, researcher and author. Also, he is developing an e-books business venture (www.payumoney.com/store/buy/sinhabooks). Earlier, he had served in reputed academic and industrial organizations in India. He graduated (1987) from the Indian Institute of Technology, Kharagpur with a B. Tech. (Honours) in Manufacturing Science and Engineering. He is a “Fellow of the Indian Institute of Management Calcutta” (1994) in the area of Operations Research & Systems Analysis. In research, he is interested in production & inventory planning, quality management, maintenance planning, and more generally, in applied optimization models and solution methods. He has published on such topics in the Annals of Operations Research, International Transactions in Operational Research, International Journal of Quality & Reliability Management, Opsearch, Journal of Information and Optimization Sciences, International Journal of Market Research and other prominent journals. He is a reviewer of some leading journals in operations research/ management. He is married to Debjani and has a daughter Diproshikha.

9th Feb., 2016