

Adil E. Shamoo, Ph.D.

Dr. Shamoo is a professor and former chair at University of Maryland School of Medicine, Baltimore. Shamoo was a Clinton appointee member of the National Human Research Protections Advisory Committee (NHRPAC). He served on the Defense Health Board (DHB) as Bush and Obama appointee, and currently serving a four-year term appointment by Secretary Hagel as the chair of the Medical Ethics Subcommittee of the DHB. In 1988, he founded and is the Editor-in-Chief of the journal, Accountability in Research and served on the editorial board of many other journals.

Shamoo was a Clinton appointee member of the National Human Research Protections Advisory Committee (NHRPAC). He has chaired twelve international conferences on ethical issues and testified before Congressional Committees and the National Bioethics Advisory Commission. Since 1994, Shamoo has been teaching a graduate course on, “Responsible Conduct of Research”.

Dr. Shamoo has lectured over 300 times worldwide on topics ranging from issues in ethics, science and public policy. He has held visiting professorships at notable institutions, including Sarah Lawrence College and the Institute for Political Studies in Paris, France and L'Aquila University, Italy

Dr. Shamoo has written over 300 articles and has authored, co-authored, or edited seventeen books, including his textbook , Responsible Conduct of Research (with David Resnik, 2003, 2009, and 2015); Ethics of the Use of Human Subjects in Research (with Felix Gyi, 2002). His most recent book (2012) is entitled: Equal Worth – When Humanity Will Have Peace.

Dr. Shamoo has held full-time faculty appointments at NIH, University of Rochester School of Medicine & Dentistry, Max-Planck Institute for Biophysics, Frankfurt, West Germany, Mount Sinai School of Medicine of the City University of New York, and University of Louisville.