

Rafaela Vasiliadou – Short Bio

I received my PhD in Analytical Chemistry from the University of Hull. My research expertise relies in the field of Electrochemistry/Mass Spectrometry with particular focus in Pharmaceuticals (Drug Metabolism) and Biochemistry (Reverse Krebs cycle). I am interested on the development of microfluidic devices hyphenated online and offline with mass spectrometry. Currently, I am a post-doctoral researcher at University College London.