

Athens, 25 April 2017

PRESS RELEASE

RE: A Small Symposium on The Future of Scientific Research and Education in a Globalized World, Monday, 1 May 2017, Titania Hotel, 52 Panepistimiou Avenue, Athens, Greece.

The Athens Institute for Education and Research (ATINER) will be organizing an international symposium on:

The Future of Scientific Research and Education in a Globalized World

The symposium will take place on Monday, 1 May 2017, 17:00 - 20:00, Titania Hotel, 52 Panepistimiou Avenue, Athens, Greece. The working language will be English, without interpretation.

Speakers:

1. Steven Oberhelman, Professor and Associate Dean, University of Texas A&M, USA. The Challenges and Benefits of Being a Scholar in the Age of Globalization.
2. Bing Yan, Professor, Shandong University, China. International collaboration on research and education.
3. Andrea Borghini, Associate Professor, University of Pisa, Italy. The role of sociology in a globalized world.
4. Gamal Abdel Naser Yamamah, Professor, National Research Centre (NRC), Egypt. Medical Research Collaboration: A Step towards Better Output, National Center expertise.
5. Cristina Maria Miranda De Sousa, Rector, University Center Uninovafapi, Brazil. Active methodology as a proposal for graduation training in Uninovafapi.

The symposium will be chaired by Gregory T. Papanikos, President, ATINER & Honorary Professor, University of Stirling, UK. The symposium program is available at <https://www.atiner.gr/events/1May2017Sociology.pdf>.

The list of events organized by the Institute is available on the Institute's website: <https://www.atiner.gr/event>. This event is free of charge, but pre-registration is required. For further information, please contact Ms. Fani Balaska at +30 210 3634210 or by email at info@atiner.gr.